

HOREFTO

Horefto, a dreamy village, east of Pelion surrounded by the Aegean sea has the most beautiful houses built in the traditional Pelion style, picturesque, narrow alleys and one of the most magnificent sandy beaches of this region with clear, deep, blue water - and ideal resort to relax and do water sports as well. The local tavernas and restaurants spoil you with fresh seafood and you will have the chance to get to know the famous and traditional ouzeris which coddle your taste with an unbelievable variety of hours oeuvres and local specialties. You'll get a hint of Pelion's tradition and national costumes visiting the folklore-festivals. It is worth discovering the beautiful shore in as small boat - northwards you come across unique long and sandy beaches with few caves down by the sea known since the ancient times. Going on a trip, just 9km away, up to the mountain village of Zagora whose origin goes back to the Homer days, it will give you the chance to discover the old manor-houses of this region and the history of the local hero Rigas Ferreos who urged his people to take the first step towards the world known revolution against the reigning dynasty of the Turks.
