

XINOVRSI- POTISTIKA

47km from Volos and 15km from Argalasti on the eastern side of Pelion where there are several of the most distinguished beaches of the region, far from indiscreet eyes lies the beach by the name of Potistika. There's only one taverna on the premises where one can get everything he needs to get by.

This is the place to visit whenever you feel the need to escape from everyday's stress and rest upon the white sand under the glorious Greek sun or regain his strength in the green forests nearby.

Should you need a larger variety of shops and ways to amusement seek the villages by the names Xinovrisi (8km) and Argalasti (15km).

PALTSI

A settlement that is 53 km from Volos and 13 km from the Argalasti. It is found south from the beach of Potistika protected from the north-eastern winds, a beach with crystal waters and a splendid golden sandy beach. The torrent that crosses the rich valley is poured in waters of sea. Near in the beach is built the church of Agios Konstantino. In September Agios Taxiarches church that is found in a near hill celebrates a local festival. Following the walking path for Layko, roughly 2,5 hours in duration, one can enjoy the beauty of nature. In Paltsi you can also calm down and dream combining the imagination with the reality the green mountain and the clear crystal water.

KATIGIORGIS

Katigiorgis is a small fishermen village in the southeastern part of Pelion, it lies directly to the sea and you can see from it in a distance of just 3 knots the island of Skiathos. From Volos to Katigiorgis there is first of all the road through the mountain part of the area which is full of turns and then there's also the road going through enormous fields of seed. This particular place is the perfect one for those of the tourists that seek peace and quiet as only very few houses and tavernas keep company to mother nature.

PLATANIAS

In the south of Pelion you will also find the village of Platania which is named after the plane-trees (platania) that one passes by the village and every where around him on the promises. A beautiful contrast to the magnificent crystal-clear sea and the several strands of the area.

The small fishermen village has waken up from it's winter sleep and it's 300 residents show the arriving tourists who want to settle down and relax a welcome that only the Greek hospitality offers. You can supply everything from the fruiterer who recommends his merchandise twice a day and from the little "Ant Emma" while your supper is being taken care of most of the tavernas and cafes for an attractive variety.

Platania offers an attractive sunny beach to the West as well and that's the reason why this place is above all a heaven to those who love to laze endlessly on the beach. One can go on an interesting excursion from Platania next to the island of Skiathos.
